

Some Flavours Found in Alcoholic Beverages
Sold by the Alberta Gaming and Liquor Commission (AGLC)

(similar to the same flavours found in little cigars and cigarillos)

As of October 2008

- The AGLC regulates the industry, issues liquor licenses and collects revenues from the sale of liquor.
- There are over 1,000 retail liquor outlets in the province.

QUESTION:

Is the government of Alberta using these flavours as a way to entice kids to start consuming alcohol?

Since minors are getting significant, illegal access to alcohol products - will the government be banning flavours in alcohol in response?
