

Some Flavours Found in Alcoholic Beverages
Sold by the Liquor Distribution Branch of British Columbia (LDB)

(similar to the same flavours found in little cigars and cigarillos)

As of October 2008

- The BC Liquor Distribution Branch is one of the province's largest retailers responsible for 199 government liquor stores, two distribution centres and 3,500 full-time and part-time employees.

QUESTION:

Is the government of British Columbia using these flavours as a way to entice kids to start consuming alcohol?

Since minors are getting significant, illegal access to alcohol products - will the government be banning flavours in alcohol in response?
